ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATORS — With anti-Vietnam war demonstrators thronging in Washington, the camera finds these staging a sit-in at the State Department.

Marches for and Against Vietnam War Melt Away

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. marshals hauled a last-stand group of Vietnam war protesters from Pentagon grounds early today, ending a sometimes-violent weekend rally and march on the troop-surrounded military nerve center of the nation.

On a plaza-like area just outside the Pentagon's mall entrance a hard-core band of dissenters—some bearded, some shaggy haired, some wearing trinkets of the hippie cult, some rather normal college types—resisted to the last.

At midnight Sunday, when their permit to stage a "nonviolent" demonstration expired, marshals armed with night sticks and pistols and aided by military police carried the protesters to Army vans. The Defense Department said 208 were hauled to a federal detention center at Occoquan, Va., where most of the 439 persons arrested earlier had been taken.

As the midnight deadline approached, an Army colonel seated in a jeep repeatedly broadcast to the demonstrators a warning that those "who do not leave voluntarily by midnight will be arrested."

Officials estimated there were 2,000 troops on hand for the cleanup arrests. Before the operation Army Chief of Staff Harold K. Johnson personally conferred with unit commanders.

Left behind on the lawn and asphalt parking area of the Pentagon's mall entrance was a janitor's nightmare of scattered debris including beer cans, newspapers and piles of ashes from weekend campfires.

Trucks equipped with giant vaccuums sucked up most of the trash. But painted slogans, scrawled on Pentagon masonry, remained as telltale signs of the brief occupation.

Americans turned out by the tens of thousands in the New York metropolitan area over the weekend to parade peacefully in a mass show of support for U.S. fighting men in Vietnam.

The demonstrations, sponsored by the National Committee for Responsible Patriotism, included a nationwide "Lights On" program, with thousands of motorists keeping their car headlights burning during daylight hours to back up the presence of GIs in Southeast Asia.

The biggest event, a parade in Newark, N.J., had 60,000 marchers with about an equal number of spectators.

Some 100,000 persons marched in several New York City boroughs and on Long Island, with another estimated 100,000 looking on. About 6,000 marched in Waterbury, Conn.

In West Berlin, police ended a weekend of anti-U.S. demonstrations Sunday by hosing down about 1,000 student protesters from six water-cannon trucks.

In London Sunday, police fought a pitched battle with about 3,000 anti-Vietnam war demonstrators outside the U.S. Embassy. Scotland Yard arrested 47.

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, a Republican, speaking at a Battery Park vigil, said that while Americans are behind U.S. fighting men in Vietnam there are "deep divisions" on long-range political goals.

LBJ Would Lose To 3 Republicans

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson would be unable to defeat the leading three Republicans mentioned as presidential candidates if any election was held today, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

The poll, conducted between Oct 6-11, found that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., would fare better than Johnson but would not be able to defeat former Vice President Richard M. Nixon or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Pollsters asked the following question of 1,585 persons in 320 localities across the nation:

"Suppose the presidential election were held today. If (candidate's name) were the Democratic candidate and (candidate's name) were the Republican candidate, which would you like to see win?"

A Nixon-Johnson race showed 49 per cent for Nixon, 45 per cent for the President and 6 per cent undecided. It was the first time that Nixon has shown greater strength than Johnson in the Gallup Poll.

Despite his insistence that he is not a candidate, Rockefeller holds an even wider lead over the President—54 per cent to 40 per cent with 6 per cent undecided.

The latest poll also showed Gov. George Romney of Michigan defeating Johnson, 48 per cent to 45 per cent with 7 per cent undecided.

In races against Sen. Kennedy, Nixon holds a lead of 48 per cent to 47 per cent with 5 per cent undecided and Rockefeller's edge is 47 per cent to 46 per cent with 7 per cent undecided.

A survey to determine who voters favor as the GOP candidate showed that Nixon and Rockefeller were gaining support while Romney failed to recover the support he lost following his Sept. 5 statement about having been "brainwashed" by the Johnson administration on Vietnam.

Woman Slain With Arrows

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A mother of two children was killed today with bow and arrows. Police arrested the husband, quoting him as saying he tried, and failed, to strangle his 3-year-old son.

Mrs. Annabella Booker, 26, was found dead by police in her West Philadelphia bedroom, five arrows sticking out of her body.

Capt. Edmund J. Zongolowicz of the homicide squad said Vaughan Booker, an expert archer who is an unemployed salesman, shot his wife three times in the neck and twice in the left side. The weapon was a 6-foot bow and 26-inch arrows.

Mount Vernon Welcomes LeMay

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Gen. Curtis LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, was a guest at a reception near here Sunday night and the guests included members of a "Citizens for LeMay" committee from his home town of Mount Vernon.

The committee is promoting Gen. LeMay for the Republican nomination for president.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Gingerich. Gingerich is active in the campaign to promote LeMay for the nomination.

Supreme Court Gets CATV Case

WASHINGTON (AP() — The Supreme Court agreed today to decide whether the Federal Communications Commission has the power to regulate community antenna television (CATV) systems.

The U.S. Circuit Court in San Francisco held that the FCC does not have such power. But the U.S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia ruled later in another case, not now before the Supreme Court, that the commission does have the power to regulate the fast growing cable TV industry.

Fear Ship-Sinking May Spark New Middle East War

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel's angry mood hardened in bitter official statements today and Egyptian officials said they expect an attack "anytime" to avenge Egypt's sinking of an Israeli destroyer in what may have been one of warfare's first sea-to-sea missile raids.

Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol called the sinking of the destroyer Elath Saturday "an act of war in open sea" and said "this despicable attack was launched without any cause." Egypt's Cabinet asserted the warship was in its territorial waters when missiles shattered it. The exchange came as Soviet Deputy Defense Minister Marshal Matvei Zakharov arrived in Cairo unannounced and President Gamal Abdel Nasser called his ministers together to discuss what the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram reported were "the eventualities of the situation."

The purpose of Zakharov's mission was not disclosed but the commander if Israel's navy said he believed "Soviet missiles fired from Soviet ships the commander in Israel's navy sank the Elath, killing 15 of her crew of 202, wounding 48 more and leaving 36 unaccounted for.

Brig. Gen. Shlomo Errel, Israeli navy commander, denied that the ship was in Egyptian waters, but disclosed that the Elath took three direct hits from the apparently radar-controlled missiles. He said they had one-ton war heads and a range of about 25 miles.

Survivors said the green-colored devices changed course as they zeroed in. Israeli officials speculated they were being used for the first time in combat.

The first two rockets hit the Elath and turned her into a mass of flame and twisted steel. For 2½ hours the crew fought to save her, but the ship's radio was knocked out and they could not call for help.

Finally, a third missile hit the ship and its captain was hurled from the bridge into the sea with a broken back.

A young sailor in a hospital said, "There were only the cries of the wounded and the roaring of the flames. It was like a vision of hell."

The 23-year-old ship, purchased from Britain, then listed and went under. She sank near the spot where she had blown two Egyptian torpedo boats out of the water July 11 with old-fashioned broadsides.

A fourth missile later landed among the men struggling in the water and exploded, its waves of crushing pressure killing many Israel said.

Pennsylvania Steel Haulers Reject Pact

Others Approve; Final Tabulation Made in Gary

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Striking steel haulers in Western Pennsylvania have rejected a compromise proposal to end their walkout, now in its third month.

It was the first reported rejection of the proposal worked out by governors' representatives of seven states.

Strikers in Cleveland, Ohio, and Buffalo, N.Y., have accepted the pact. The National Steel Carriers Association and an independent group of trucking firms also have approved it.

The votes of strikers in all states are being tabulated at Gary, Ind., and will be released late today by William Kusley, the trucker who started the walkout.

The strikers rejected the proposal by a 462-341 margin in Pittsburgh Sunday, hooting when warned that a thumbs down vote might result in a long, hard and possibly fruitless struggle.

"It is my personal opinion...that it would be a wise decision to accept the recommendations and to resume work as a unified group," Daniel Berger told some 800 strikers meeting in a Roman Catholic high school.

Berger, attorney for the strikers, said, "This contract would represent a tremendous victory that no one anticipated when the strike started many weeks ago."

The strikers apparently were upset over a remark made by William J. Hart, Pennsylvania secretary of labor, and dissatisfied with a key provision—the amount of time they must wait at mills before collecting penalty payment.

The proposal would give them $13.70 an hour after a four hour wait for loading or unloading. The strikers want only a two hour wait.

Talks Enter Final Week In Rome

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Synod of Bishops went into its final week today with action on its most important topics still ahead.

The asks:

—Finish debate on liturgy changes.

—Hear and pass on a committee's report on doctrine and theology, the main issue being modern trends and tradition.

—Vote on whether to propose to Pope Paul VI changes in the Church's mixed marriage rules.

—Attend a meeting of the Pope and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras, who is scheduled to arrive for a historic, three-day Christian unity visit Thursday.

—Draft an appeal for world peace.

There was speculation the peace appeal might coincide with a new move by the Pope for an end to the Vietnam war. There have been indications in the Vatican press that a new papal attempt to foster peace in Southeast Asia was in the offing.

The most awaited developments are those dealing with doctrine and theology and the mixed marriage vote.

The synod elected a committee Oct. 12 to formulate a document on doctrine.

U.S. Boosts Troop Units Near DMZ

Total Strength Of Viet Force To Hit 467,000

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes struck at a naval yard outside Haiphong for the first time Sunday as the vanguard of 4,100 fresh American infantrymen began coming ashore to help hold down South Vietnam's unstable northern battle zone.

Elements of the 198th Light Infantry Brigade joined 30,000 other infantrymen and 77,000 Marines already in the five northernmost Provinces. The area, known as 1st Corps, is one of deep Viet Cong penetration and high enemy operating efficiency.

The arrival of the full brigade over the next few days will push the total American strength in South Vietnam to approximately 467,000 men.

Shortly before the new troops swept out of landing craft at Chu Lai on the South China Sea, Navy jets took advantage of a break in bad weather to hit a new target, a naval yard seven miles outside Haiphong.

Fliers said they heavily damaged an oil depot and a drydock and destroyed a torpedo patrol boat. Other pilots pounded railroad yards 1.7 miles from the center of Haiphong in continuing efforts to stop the flow of supplies out of the key North Vietnamese port.

A carrier-based Navy A4 Skyhawk was shot down by enemy ground fire in the Haiphong area, the U.S. Command reported, and the pilot was missing. It was the 707th announced U.S. warplane loss over the North. Hanoi had claimed downing two U.S. raiders.

Marine jets struck a railroad siding and bridge 20 miles south of Hanoi. Other Marine pilots reported destroying 35 enemy fortifications just above the demilitarized zone in North Vietnam.

Air Force fighter-bombers from Thailand struck targets above Hanoi, bombing a railroad bridge, rail lines and a missile site. Pilots told of cutting rail lines 39 miles northeast of Hanoi and hitting approaches to the Lang Lau railroad bridge 36 miles north of the capital.

In a delayed report on a ground action, U.S. headquarters said South Vietnamese irregulars and their U.S. Special Forces advisors killed 99 Viet Cong in a sharp clash Saturday 29 miles northeast of Saigon.

Roundtown

MRS. Robert Shadley, director of the Bake-A-Pumpkin-Pie contest of the Pumpkin Show, had some interesting visitors from far away places Saturday at the Pumpkin Show . . . Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Dadey here from Cincinnati were Bertil Friberg, Stockholm, Sweden and Henry Kalter of Montreal, Canada . . The many comments of praise made by these visitors while touring the festival will add to the favorable publicity the Circleville Pumpkin Show has attained throughout the world.

CANDIDATES, running for Circleville city offices, and the public will have a chance to meet next Monday evening in St. Philip's Church Hall. The event will start at 7:30 p.m. . . . Party Chairmen William Stout-D and Darrell Hatfield-R have pledged their cooperation and say as many candidates as possible will be on hand . . .

Although the candidates for city-wide office will give short speeches, a mostly informal session is planned This should give the voters a chance to meet face-to-face with their potenital representatives and talk about the issues. More detailed plans will be announced later this week . . . Arrangements are being made to have both sides of the School Bond issue available along with candidates for the Circleville School Board.

It is emphasized that even though the event is being held in the church hall, it is being held so that everyone in Circleville will have the chance to meet the men who will represent them for the coming four years.

Biggest Crowd Ever

100,000 People Here Saturday

"Phenomenal" best describes the tremendous crowd attending the final day of the 61st Circleville Pumpkin Show.

An estimated crowd of 100,000 people were here at parade time Saturday evening, Pumpkin Show directors said today. They termed it a "real seam buster."

Visitors started pouring into town about 9 a. m. and a continous stream of traffic flowed into the area from all four directions throughout the day.

There wasn't a parking space within a mile of the downtown area.

* * *

NED Harden, vice president of Pumpkin Show Inc., today offered the formula for estimating the crowd at parade time.

Harden said the parade route is about one mile long. "One person deep would be about 9,000 people," Harden said. On Saturday night during the parade the crowd was "eight and nine deep on the average . . . some more and some less."

Totaling the figures, including the number of people in the parade, those in the concessions and on the sidewalk areas, directors came up with a total of 90,000 to 100,000 people.

All officials agreed that Saturday's crowd was the biggest ever.

Auto Union Votes On $1 Billion Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Top officials of the United Auto Workers today prepared for a ratification vote on a new contract with the Ford Motor Co. which could cost Ford close to a billion dollars in the next three years.

Ford executives made plans to get cars rolling off assembly lines if the strike, now in its 47th day and longest in the company's history, ends some time this week.

The union's Ford Council meets tonight and ratification votes by members are planned for Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ford plants in 25 states.

The council, made up of key officials in Ford locals, meets again at 8 p.m. Wednesday, to pass on the vote.

Ford said the new contract will raise wages 45½ to 90½ cents an hour over its three-year span. The union estimates that its 20,000 skilled tradesmen at Ford will average $1.02 more hourly.

At the rate of $1 an hour increase in wages, fringe benefits and premium pay, the new contract would cost Ford $2,000 more per year for each of its 160,000 workers, thus close to a billion dollars in the three years of the contract.

Here are the major gains in the new contract:

— Compensation guaranteeing workers, depending on seniority, as much as 95 per cent of their annual wage, less $7.50 weekly work-related expenses, regardless of layoffs.

— An immediate raise of 20 cents an hour added to the $3.43 the average Ford workers now gets.

— Skilled workers get an additional increase of 30 cents an hour, making a 50-cent total.

— All workers get a 3 per cent raise during each of the last two-years of the three-year pact. Depending on a workers' seniority, the raise will be between 9½ and 17½ cents.

— Ford has agreed to guarantee at least six cents an hour in cost of living increases during the last two years of the contract. No new cost of living allowances will be paid during the first year of the contract.

Justices Nix Amish Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over the objection of three justices, the Supreme Court turned down today an Amish farmer's claim that Kansas' compulsory school attendance violates constitutional religious freedom.

The court said in a brief ruling that the appeal, filed for LeRoy Garber of Yoder, Kan., by the American Civil Liberties Union, had been dismissed "for want of jurisdiction." No other explanation was given.

The action left standing a ruling by the Kansas Supreme Court last Nov. 5 that the law is constituional. Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices William O. Douglas and Abe Fortas dissented, saying the high court should have taken the case.

Columbus Man Beaten to Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Odell Barney. 33, of Columbus, was beaten to death early today as a result of an argument that apparenly involved a woman, police reported.

Officers said the beating was inflicted with both feet and fists. James McKinnon, 27, of Columbus, was charged with manslaughter in connection with the beating.

Criticize Viet Air War Rules

General Claims Losses Needless

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force general charges that target restrictions in the air war against North Vietnam caused "more pilot and airplane losses."

The bitter criticism of past bombing limitation came from retired Maj. Gen. Gilbert E. Myers, who ended 30 years of military service as deputy commander of the 7th Air Force. He served 15 months in Vietnam.

He told the Senate preparedness subcommittee in testimony released today that many pilots were killed because of heavy restrictions imposed from Washington on bombing missions in North Vietnam.

Myers said that initially only one or two fixed targets were released at a time because "they were all approved at the Washington level."

"The existing practice of doling out the targets one, two and three at a time is too restrictive and results in more pilot and airplane losses," he said.

In other heavily censored testimony released today, Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, said the Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously recommended two years ago "as heavy a blow as possible" against important military targets in North Vietnam.

"This view was not supported," he testified. "Therefore we supported the gradual approach that has been used since then."

Gen. Wallace M. Greene, commandant of the Marine Corps, testified he advocated "more effective bombing and I am also advocating more bombing if that is necessary."

Twins Arrive Few Days Early

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—William Peniston and his wife, Angela, didn't quite make it this year with a set of Halloween twins—but they came close.

In 1965 Mrs. Peniston gave birth to twins on Halloween. Last year on Halloween, Mrs. Peniston gave birth to another set of twins. Today—just eight days before Halloween — Mrs. Peniston again was in the hospital and, you guessed it, she gave birth to twins.

The newest arrivals are boys. One weighed 6 pounds, 11 ounces, and the other weighed 5 pounds, 14 ounces.

The Penistons also have one "single." That is a boy, now three years old.

Congress Keeps Economy Wolf from Door

WASHINGTON (AP) — The current congressional economy wave is lapping at the doors of most federal agencies but shows little sign of threatening the island of prosperity Congress has created on Capitol Hill.

The House voted last week to clamp drastic restrictions on spending by executive department agencies. But the same day it crushed a move to trim 5 per cent from its own payroll—or, as Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., said, "to take the same medicine it wants to administer to other government agencies."

Sikes' amendment was aimed at a House payroll that has skyrocketed 84 per cent in the past six years and now is nearing $50 million annually. Upwards of 500 employes of House or Senate are paid $20,000 or more a year, a survey shows.

A week earlier, the House shouted down a move by Rep. Edward J. Derwinski, R-Ill., to put "some restraint on runaway salaries" by exempting congressional employes from a 4.5 per cent federal pay raise. That same day, though, other House members used nearly the same argument to exclude federal antipoverty workers from the pay raise bill.

Another area unlikely to suffer major cuts are public works projects, commonly called the "pork barrel." The bill sending federal funds into nearly every congressional district for reclamation, flood control, river and harbor projects is now in conference committee. Earlier attempts in the House and Senate to trim it 5 per cent were soundly defeated.

Rejection of the two attempts to cut back or hold the line on spending in Congress itself came as House members moved toward adoption of a directive that President Johnson cut expenditures an estimated $6 billion to $8 billion in the current fiscal year.

In fighting his losing battle to restrain "runaway salaries" on Capitol Hill, Derwinski zeroed in on the House postmaster, who is paid $23,764 a year and supervises 85 employes. The New York City postmaster, Derwinski said, receives $2,500 a year less but supervises 39,791 employe. Under the federal pay boost, the House postmaster would get an annual raise of $1,088, he added.

"It is my personal opinion ...that it would be a wise decision to accept the recommendations and to resume work as a unified group," Daniel Berger told some 800 strikers meeting in a Roman Catholic high school.

Berger, attorney for the strikers, said, "This contract would represent a tremendous victory that no one anticipated when the strike started many weeks ago."

The strikers apparently were upset over a remark made by William J. Hart, Pennsylvania secretary of labor, and dissatisfied with a key provision—the amount of time they must wait at mills before collecting penalty payment.

The proposal would give them $13.70 an hour after a four hour wait for loading or unloading. The strikers want only a two hour wait.

Talks Enter Final Week In Rome

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Synod of Bishops went into its final week today with action on its most important topics still ahead.

The asks:

—Finish debate on liturgy changes.

—Hear and pass on a committee's report on doctrine and theology, the main issue being modern trends and tradition.

—Vote on whether to propose to Pope Paul VI changes in the Church's mixed marriage rules.

—Attend a meeting of the Pope and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras, who is scheduled to arrive for a historic, three-day Christian unity visit Thursday.

—Draft an appeal for world peace.

There was speculation the peace appeal might coincide with a new move by the Pope for an end to the Vietnam war. There have been indications in the Vatican press that a new papal attempt to foster peace in Southeast Asia was in the offing.

The most awaited developments are those dealing with doctrine and theology and the mixed marriage vote.

The synod elected a committee Oct. 12 to formulate a document on doctrine.

U.S. Boosts Troop Units Near DMZ

Total Strength Of Viet Force To Hit 467,000

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes struck at a naval yard outside Haiphong for the first time Sunday as the vanguard of 4,100 fresh American infantrymen began coming ashore to help hold down South Vietnam's unstable northern battle zone.

Elements of the 198th Light Infantry Brigade joined 30,000 other infantrymen and 77,000 Marines already in the five northernmost Provinces. The area, known as 1st Corps, is one of deep Viet Cong penetration and high enemy operating efficiency.

The arrival of the full brigade over the next few days will push the total American strength in South Vietnam to approximately 467,000 men.

Shortly before the new troops swept out of landing craft at Chu Lai on the South China Sea, Navy jets took advantage of a break in bad weather to hit a new target, a naval yard seven miles outside Haiphong.

Fliers said they heavily damaged an oil depot and a drydock and destroyed a torpedo patrol boat. Other pilots pounded railroad yards 1.7 miles from the center of Haiphong in continuing efforts to stop the flow of supplies out of the key North Vietnamese port.

A carrier-based Navy A4 Skyhawk was shot down by enemy ground fire in the Haiphong area, the U.S. Command reported, and the pilot was missing. It was the 707th announced U.S. warplane loss over the North. Hanoi had claimed downing two U.S. raiders.

Marine jets struck a railroad siding and bridge 20 miles south of Hanoi. Other Marine pilots reported destroying 35 enemy fortifications just above the demilitarized zone in North Vietnam.

Air Force fighter-bombers from Thailand struck targets above Hanoi, bombing a railroad bridge, rail lines and a missile site. Pilots told of cutting rail lines 39 miles northeast of Hanoi and hitting approaches to the Lang Lau railroad bridge 36 miles north of the capital.

In a delayed report on a ground action, U.S. headquarters said South Vietnamese irregulars and their U.S. Special Forces advisors killed 99 Viet Cong in a sharp clash Saturday 29 miles northeast of Saigon.

Roundtown

MRS. Robert Shadley, director of the Bake-A-Pumpkin-Pie contest of the Pumpkin Show, had some interesting visitors from far away places Saturday at the Pumpkin Show . . . Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Dadey here from Cincinnati were Bertil Friberg, Stockholm, Sweden and Henry Kalter of Montreal, Canada . . The many comments of praise made by these visitors while touring the festival will add to the favorable publicity the Circleville Pumpkin Show has attained throughout the world.

CANDIDATES, running for Circleville city offices, and the public will have a chance to meet next Monday evening in St. Philip's Church Hall. The event will start at 7:30 p.m. . . . Party Chairmen William Stout-D and Darrell Hatfield-R have pledged their cooperation and say as many candidates as possible will be on hand . . .

Although the candidates for city-wide office will give short speeches, a mostly informal session is planned This should give the voters a chance to meet face-to-face with their potenital representatives and talk about the issues. More detailed plans will be announced later this week . . . Arrangements are being made to have both sides of the School Bond issue available along with candidates for the Circleville School Board.

It is emphasized that even though the event is being held in the church hall, it is being held so that everyone in Circleville will have the chance to meet the men who will represent them for the coming four years.

Biggest Crowd Ever

100,000 People Here Saturday

"Phenomenal" best describes the tremendous crowd attending the final day of the 61st Circleville Pumpkin Show.

An estimated crowd of 100,000 people were here at parade time Saturday evening, Pumpkin Show directors said today. They termed it a "real seam buster."

Visitors started pouring into town about 9 a. m. and a continous stream of traffic flowed into the area from all four directions throughout the day.

There wasn't a parking space within a mile of the downtown area.

* * *

NED Harden, vice president of Pumpkin Show Inc., today offered the formula for estimating the crowd at parade time.

Harden said the parade route is about one mile long. "One person deep would be about 9,000 people," Harden said. On Saturday night during the parade the crowd was "eight and nine deep on the average . . . some more and some less."

Totaling the figures, including the number of people in the parade, those in the concessions and on the sidewalk areas, directors came up with a total of 90,000 to 100,000 people.

All officials agreed that Saturday's crowd was the biggest ever.

Auto Union Votes On $1 Billion Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Top officials of the United Auto Workers today prepared for a ratification vote on a new contract with the Ford Motor Co. which could cost Ford close to a billion dollars in the next three years.

Ford executives made plans to get cars rolling off assembly lines if the strike, now in its 47th day and longest in the company's history, ends some time this week.

The union's Ford Council meets tonight and ratification votes by members are planned for Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ford plants in 25 states.

The council, made up of key officials in Ford locals, meets again at 8 p.m. Wednesday, to pass on the vote.

Ford said the new contract will raise wages 45½ to 90½ cents an hour over its three-year span. The union estimates that its 20,000 skilled tradesmen at Ford will average $1.02 more hourly.

At the rate of $1 an hour increase in wages, fringe benefits and premium pay, the new contract would cost Ford $2,000 more per year for each of its 160,000 workers, thus close to a billion dollars in the three years of the contract.

Here are the major gains in the new contract:

— Compensation guaranteeing workers, depending on seniority, as much as 95 per cent of their annual wage, less $7.50 weekly work-related expenses, regardless of layoffs.

— An immediate raise of 20 cents an hour added to the $3.43 the average Ford workers now gets.

— Skilled workers get an additional increase of 30 cents an hour, making a 50-cent total.

— All workers get a 3 per cent raise during each of the last two-years of the three-year pact. Depending on a workers' seniority, the raise will be between 9½ and 17½ cents.

— Ford has agreed to guarantee at least six cents an hour in cost of living increases during the last two years of the contract. No new cost of living allowances will be paid during the first year of the contract.

Justices Nix Amish Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over the objection of three justices, the Supreme Court turned down today an Amish farmer's claim that Kansas' compulsory school attendance violates constitutional religious freedom.

The court said in a brief ruling that the appeal, filed for LeRoy Garber of Yoder, Kan., by the American Civil Liberties Union, had been dismissed "for want of jurisdiction." No other explanation was given.

The action left standing a ruling by the Kansas Supreme Court last Nov. 5 that the law is constituional. Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices William O. Douglas and Abe Fortas dissented, saying the high court should have taken the case.

Columbus Man Beaten to Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Odell Barney. 33, of Columbus, was beaten to death early today as a result of an argument that apparenly involved a woman, police reported.

Officers said the beating was inflicted with both feet and fists. James McKinnon, 27, of Columbus, was charged with manslaughter in connection with the beating.

Criticize Viet Air War Rules

General Claims Losses Needless

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force general charges that target restrictions in the air war against North Vietnam caused "more pilot and airplane losses."

The bitter criticism of past bombing limitation came from retired Maj. Gen. Gilbert E. Myers, who ended 30 years of military service as deputy commander of the 7th Air Force. He served 15 months in Vietnam.

He told the Senate preparedness subcommittee in testimony released today that many pilots were killed because of heavy restrictions imposed from Washington on bombing missions in North Vietnam.

Myers said that initially only one or two fixed targets were released at a time because "they were all approved at the Washington level."

"The existing practice of doling out the targets one, two and three at a time is too restrictive and results in more pilot and airplane losses," he said.

In other heavily censored testimony released today, Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, said the Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously recommended two years ago "as heavy a blow as possible" against important military targets in North Vietnam.

"This view was not supported," he testified. "Therefore we supported the gradual approach that has been used since then."

Gen. Wallace M. Greene, commandant of the Marine Corps, testified he advocated "more effective bombing and I am also advocating more bombing if that is necessary."

Twins Arrive Few Days Early

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—William Peniston and his wife, Angela, didn't quite make it this year with a set of Halloween twins—but they came close.

In 1965 Mrs. Peniston gave birth to twins on Halloween. Last year on Halloween, Mrs. Peniston gave birth to another set of twins. Today—just eight days before Halloween — Mrs. Peniston again was in the hospital and, you guessed it, she gave birth to twins.

The newest arrivals are boys. One weighed 6 pounds, 11 ounces, and the other weighed 5 pounds, 14 ounces.

The Penistons also have one "single." That is a boy, now three years old.

Congress Keeps Economy Wolf from Door

WASHINGTON (AP) — The current congressional economy wave is lapping at the doors of most federal agencies but shows little sign of threatening the island of prosperity Congress has created on Capitol Hill.

The House voted last week to clamp drastic restrictions on spending by executive department agencies. But the same day it crushed a move to trim 5 per cent from its own payroll—or, as Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., said, "to take the same medicine it wants to administer to other government agencies."

Sikes' amendment was aimed at a House payroll that has skyrocketed 84 per cent in the past six years and now is nearing $50 million annually. Upwards of 500 employes of House or Senate are paid $20,000 or more a year, a survey shows.

A week earlier, the House shouted down a move by Rep. Edward J. Derwinski, R-Ill., to put "some restraint on runaway salaries" by exempting congressional employes from a 4.5 per cent federal pay raise. That same day, though, other House members used nearly the same argument to exclude federal antipoverty workers from the pay raise bill.

Another area unlikely to suffer major cuts are public works projects, commonly called the "pork barrel." The bill sending federal funds into nearly every congressional district for reclamation, flood control, river and harbor projects is now in conference committee. Earlier attempts in the House and Senate to trim it 5 per cent were soundly defeated.

Rejection of the two attempts to cut back or hold the line on spending in Congress itself came as House members moved toward adoption of a directive that President Johnson cut expenditures an estimated $6 billion to $8 billion in the current fiscal year.

In fighting his losing battle to restrain "runaway salaries" on Capitol Hill, Derwinski zeroed in on the House postmaster, who is paid $23,764 a year and supervises 85 employes. The New York City postmaster, Derwinski said, receives $2,500 a year less but supervises 39,791 employe. Under the federal pay boost, the House postmaster would get an annual raise of $1,088, he added.

Police Probe Burglaries of Laundromats

Circleville Police are investigating a theft from one local laundromat and an attempted burglary of another.

Taken from the laundromat operated by Wayne Fetherolf, 160 W. Main St. was a coin changer containing approximately $45.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to remove coin changers from the Duds and Suds Laundromat on E. Franklin St. Both incidents were discovered this morning by the owners.

Traffic Cases Heard by Juvenile Court

Juvenile Court Judge Guy Cline handed down sentences Monday on three cases involving local residents.

Dale E. Byrd, 17, of 222 Pearl St., was fined $25 plus costs for failure to maintain assured clear distance ahead. The fine was suspended, but he is required to attend traffic safety school.

Donna Lee Evans, 17, of 720 S. Court St. was charged with driving on a learner's permit without a licensed driver in the car. She was fined $50 plus costs, of which $25 was suspended.

Stephen A. Knece, 17, Kingston, was fined $25 for squirrel hunting at A. W. Marion State Park before Oct. 25. The fine was suspended.

Suit Dismissed

A civil suit filed by Ralph Midkiff against Jay Morrison, Ashville, has been dismissed in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

The suit involved an automobile accident that occurred Sept. 23, 1965 North of Ashville. Midkiff was seeking $25,000 for injuries allegedly sustained in the accident.

Grave Marker Found

Washington Twp. trustees discovered a grave marker lying along the Pennsylvania Railroad just off Bolender Pontious Road Friday, according to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Wake Up Your
PERISTALSIS
And Be Your
SMILING BEST

Peristalsis is the muscular action of your digestive system. When peristaltic action slows down, waste materials can build up in the lower tract. You can become irregular, uncomfortable, stuffed.

The unique laxative formula of today's Carter's Pills gives effective, temporary relief of the irregularity by activating the slowed-down muscles of the lower tract and stimulating peristalsis.

So if you're sluggish due to irregularity, take Carter's Pills to wake up your peristalsis and you'll bounce back to your smiling best.

Millions of satisfied users take Carter's Pills for effective temporary relief of irregularity. Why don't you. 49¢.

Elks Prep For Annual Youth Contest

Plans are underway for the Annual Elks Youth Leadership Contest.

John F. Fissell, local contest chairman, said today that entry blanks are now available and are to be given to guidance counselors at area high schools for distribution.

Robert Huffer, exalted ruler of the local lodge, commenting on the contest said, "In this very worthwhile activity, we want to reach, recognize and reward youth leaders."

The contest is open to boys and girls, 18 years of age and under, who by their conduct and manner of living, exemplify initiative, citizenship appreciation, resourcefulness and sense of honor and thereby display outstanding leadership. Entries will be rated on these points.

U. S. Savings Bonds will be awarded to the local lodge winners, to district winners, to Ohio Elks Assn., state winners and some $35,000 in savings bonds will be awarded to grant lodge winners through the Elks National Foundation.

What tests can be performed on the liver to learn if it is functioning correctly in a person who has for years been a heavy drinker?

The tests for liver functions are no different in an alcoholic than they are in one who does not drink at all.

A study of the liver function is sometimes referred to by physicians as the "liver profile." This means a battery of exhaustive tests that show the exact state of health or disease of the liver.

The liver is a remarkable organ that seems to be involved in almost every bodily function. One of its most important functions is to produce bile, bile salt and bile pigment.

The liver also is responsible for the formation of urea, glycogen and a vast number of other chemicals. The liver is also a protective agent against toxic drugs, poison and bacteria.

Therefore, there is no one single test that can be used for liver function. The icterus index is an important one to determine the degree of jaundice sent during some illnesses. The The presence of bilirubia in the urine is evidence of disease of the liver. This chemical gives a yellow or brown discoloration to the urine.

The study of the bilirubin in the stoll may indicate some blockage of bile or liver failure. Many complicated tests of the blood are performed by injecting a dye into the bloodstream.

When the liver is not functioning well a large amount of the dye is retained. This is a most useful test.

There are probably another 100 tests which are carefully chosen, for not all of them are necessary in all cases. The clinical judgment of the doctor helps him to decide which of the tests to use.

Are skin cancers of the face as dangerous as skin cancers in otherpart of the body?

Any cancer is a malignant tumor that must be distrusted. One of the characteristics of a cancer is unrestrained growth of cells that invade the normal neighboring tissue.

Cancers of the skin, like cancers everywhere else in the body, mut be treated early and vigorously to prevent their spread. Early diagnosis, is, therefore, most important.

Any break in the skin that does not heal after two weeks must be viewed with suspicion. If the spot grows larger, and if a discharge continues, it should be examined by a skin specialist. With powerful microscopes the skin can be minutely examined, leaving no doubt about the diagnosis.

When necessary a small piece of the skin tissue can be removed with a fine instrument. This is sent to the laboratory and examined under the microscope to see if cancer cells are present.

Treatment may consist of its total removal by surgery or by exposure to X-rays or by both. The results are very gratifying when the condition has not been neglected for a long period of time.

Self-treatment with caustic agents or covering the skin ulcer with make-up may hide it but does not effect its cure. The neglect of these "overlooked" growths or breaks in the skin may lead to extension of the disease below the surface with troublesome complications in the bone or muscle beneath it.

A new feature of the Pumpkin Show was the Characterization and Comic Parade — "Doll up and get in". Liberal prizes were awarded.

The show opened 7 p. m. Wednesday evening with a style show and band concert. Fair skies prevailed. Large exhibits were indicated. The carnival exhibits were in place and the city streets looked like a tented field.

Paid attractions at the 19th annual show were: Evans' Society Circus, Curio Show, Birdland, Calf and Hog Show. Added attractions were dancing each night, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, the whip and aeroplane swing.

Mack Parrett offered a Pumpkin Show special of a "free" football with each boy's suit or overcoat purchased — $10 or up.

Feature of the Pumpkin show, the Baby Parade, had 150 entries. Attendance was a record breaker.

Guy Rader won the horse shoe pitching contest with 246 points.

Best loaf of white bread honors were won by Mrs. G. E. Thornton Jellies, Mrs. Lida Riffle; Best roll of country made butter, W. T. Logan.

The prettiest white baby under 1 year was Bertie Wesley Richey, prettiest baby between 1 and 2 was Edith Pauline Hampshire, prettiest between 2 and 3, Vida Eloise Turner. The prettiest twins under one year were Mary Irene and Frances Marvene Pontius.

Honorable George R. Haswell, Mayor of Circleville for 6 years, died on the opening day of the show. He originated and promoted Circleville's Pumpkin Show.

WASHINGTON REPORT

From

WILLIAM H. HARSHA

Representative To Congress
6th District, Ohio

The Great Debate on Taxes, Inflation and Government-Spending has been going on for several months now and will likely continue for some time.

The Congress presently has turned deaf ears to LBJ's pleas for more taxes — telling him to slow down on spending first.

The President claims the Congress is responsible for spending and Congress claims the President is responsible. It should be made clear that Congress appropriates money, makes it available, but the President actually spends the money.

The President requests funds from the Congress and he can hold down his requests. It is likewise true that Congress can reject or reduce these requests; and, to date, the Congress has reduced them by about $4 billion and will reduce them, in all probability, by at least another billion before the session is over. However, this solves only part of the problem.

This year's budget requests by President Johnson contain pleas for new obligaional authority exceeding $144 billion, and it is these new requests Congress is cutting back.

The President argues that unless his tax increase is passed, we will have a deficit of around $30 billion and inflation.

But LBJ' tax increase would only reduce the deficit to around $23 billion; maybe, not even that low, depending upon when it is effective. But some Members of Congress feel a $23 billion deficit will create inflation also; just about as much inflation as a $30 billion deficit.

Another Administration argument is that without the tax increase interest rates would move higher, because the Treasury would have to borrow an additional $7 billion. Some Members of Congress agree with this but think the better policy would be to reduce expenditures, so it isn't necessary to borrow more money, rather than increase taxes.

Another argument is that the housing industry would suffer a special burden, a recurrence of last years depresssion when money was "tight". This is probably true if the federal government has to borrow more money and compete with private enterprise and the individual in the money market. The answer here again seems to be to cut down on spending obviating the necessity of borrowing more.

The Administration spokesmen maintain it is Congress' reponsibility to tell the President where to cut. Here are some suggested areas where additional cuts may be made without affecting the necessary services for the American people.

The military budget is not sacrosanct and there are a number of areas where waste could be curtailed, such as in the practice of purchasing items by negotiated contracts rather than by competitive bidding.

Some Members of Congress claim the "TFX" incident has cost the taxpayer untold millions of dollars.

Furthermore, there is a $14 billion carry-over of "unobligated" funds in the Department of Defense. The Congress approved defense appropriations of approximately $70 billion for this fiscal year. A cut of five percent would save $3.5 billion and not affect the Vietnam effort or our national security.

Another area where additional cuts can be made is in the Public Works Appropriations Bill. Although the Congress has already cut this figure beneath the President's total request, the figure is stil in excess of $4.6 billion. Another cut of five percent in these programs would not materially affect their completion, but would have a decidedly favorable effect upon our deficit for this year.

The Administration has requested $70 million for Highway Beautification programs this year to cover the purchase of "rock out-croppings", scenic vistas, pastoral scenes or strips of timber or interesting natural shrubs. This money is to be used outside the right-of-way area of highways. It would appear that, in this year of the "great deficit", we could at least dealy the expenditure of this $70 million for these unnecessary rills.

Another area where considerable savings could be practiced would be Federal employment. Federal employment has increased over a year by roughly 250 thousand employees. The increase in employment has added $1.8 billion to the Federal payroll.

Foreign aid has gotten completely out of hand. The following information was provided by Congressman Otto E. Passman, Democrat, Chairman of the Foreign Operations Subcommittee on Appropriations. Congressman Passman says, and I quote,

"New funds requested for foreign aid, all categories, first 7 months of 1967; 9 billion, 206 million, 154 thousand dollars. If the Congress approves all new funds requested by the President this year, there will be on hand to be spent or obligated during the current fiscal year, the staggering toatl of 25 billion, 602 million, 935 thousand dollars. Our country is committed to disburse funds during the current fiscal year in 100 nations and 5 territories of the world."

It would seem to many Members of Congress that it would only be fair to ask those foreign nations to tighten their belts a little and not expect so much from Uncle Sugar this year rather than to continually ask the American taxpayer to do without so that foreign governments could receive more of our largesse.

These are just some of the areas where both Congress and the Administration can reduce federal expendtiures and still provide the necessary services for the people of America. In the few remaining weks, three will be a great deal of maneuvering and let us hope that the American taxpayer wins this one fight at least.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (A) — An "emergency" committee of 700 businessmen from throughout the country has been formed here to combat what is felt to be an increase in the rate by which gangsters are infiltrating legitimate businesses.

"This is organized anti-crime," said a spokesman for the National Emergency Committee. "It is safer for an association to stick its neck out than for one individual to do so."

Formation of the committee, which is heavily financed by big business, underlines the concern of government, police and business officials with the growing threat, as well as with the usually feeble counterattack.

One of the group's chief roles will be to alert industry to the methods gangsters use to move in on thousands of businesses: garbage disposal, machine vending and contruction to be sure, but also banks, brokerage houses and automobile agencies.

It hopes to do this by arousing businessmen and their trade associations and by encouraging volunteer roles for civilians in the operation of police departments, courts and jails, and in rehabilitating former criminals.

This may be bad news for the office or plant bookie, for friendly and sociable as he may be, the committee views his activities as "the lifeblood of the organized crime syndicate."

By no means, however, is the concentration going to be on the small guy. The syndicate itself, sometimes better organized and more efficient than a conventional business, is the chief worry. Syndicate officers are constantly pressured to find legitimate outlets for their mounting billions.

The committee, a unit of the nonprofit National Council on Crime and Delinquency, will convene here Nov. 13, chaired by H. Ladd Lumley, who was president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in 1962 and 1963.

Meanwhile, it suggests business leaders familiarize themselves with some of these principal methods of infiltration:

1. Investment in legitimate businesses of profits from gambling, extortion, narcotics or other illegal sources. This type of infiltration is difficult to detect if the company's stock is traded publicly.

2. Loans with such fantastically high interest rates—as much as 150 per cent a week—that the businessman must accept the lender as a partner or go bankrupt. After the partner is accepted, the original owner is dealt out.

3. Extortion in which the owner yields partial or complete control of the business because of threats. These threats might include arson, beatings, labor trouble or destruction of property.

Why should the underworld be interested in surfacing? The compelling reasons, the committee explains, include these:

—"A legitimate business establishes a legal source for funds upon which some taxes are paid—as little as possible. This helps protect the gangster from income tax charges.

—"A legitimate business allows the gangster to operate without the high rate of protection which he pays when he runs a gambling or other racket. Furthermore, the business may dovetail with other syndicate operations."

Once in a legitimate enterprise, a committee spokesman explains, the gangster seldom lives up to his new responsibilities and status. Instead, he corrupts the business.

Good News about Vietnam

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Governor Ronald Reagan of California has accused President Johnson of hiding news of our successes in the Vietnamese War in order to save the glad tidings for the 1968 election campaign. This is scarcely credible, for how does any news, good or bad, keep for nine months? But if Reagan is almost certainly wrong about Lyndon Johnson's motivations, he could be right when he says the White House isn't giving the public an up-to-date rundown on the progress of the war.

If I didn't happen to subscribe to the Washington Report of the American Security Council, for example, I wouldn't have known that the military advisers of SEATO, meeting in September in Bangkok, had received a most optimistic summary of battlefront successes from General Westmoreland's headquarters. Governor Reagan says he has a feeling, based on information from "certain contacts," that "the corner has been turned" in Vietnam. The Governor may be sticking his neck out when he says we are over the worst hurdles, but the Westmoreland report to SEATO certainly corroborates what Reagan has learned from "people who have been there."

Zone by zone, the Westmoreland summary contradicts all the purveyors of gloom. Quoting the American Security Council, "North Vietnamese forces still have the capability to mount large-scale attacks from within and above the Seventeenth Parallel." This means that the First Corps Zone is still in trouble, but enemy attacks have always, to date, "been repulsed with heavy losses," which means that no Dienbienphu is in sight. Meanwhile, the "percentage of population in the zone under Viet Cong control has decreased from 65 per cent to 49 per cent over the past year," and "commercial and military traffic can now use the entire 235 miles of highway from the Demilitarized Zone south to the Second Corps border."

In Zone Two, no North Vietnamese regiment has achieved a successful operation for two years. The "population under Viet Cong control has fallen from 50 per cent to 11 per cent, and "90 per cent of the important highways are now open."

Zone Three is a more complicated matter, for here "the bulk of the VC clandestine organization remains intact" for terroristic purposes. But "the number of enemy killed, captured or defecting has risen from 900 a month in 1966 to over 2,000 a month in 1967." In Zone Four, population under VC control "has dropped from 54 per cent to 40 per cent." Pacification is slow, but "the foundation is being laid," and "public confidence in the government's ability to win the war is growing."

As for the air war against the North, the Westmoreland report to SEATO says it has been extremely effective. "Approximately 50 per cent of North North Vietnam's war supporting industry, including its only iron and steel plant and its only cement plant, have been destroyed." Bulk oil storage facilities have been knocked out, "forcing the North Vietnamese to resort to an inefficient, widely dispersed 55 - gallon barrel storage system." All the major northeast rail lines have been "successfully interdicted," and over a "half-million men have been diverted to road maintenance, repair, dispersal and reconstruction tasks." Ship off-loading time "has quadrupled in six months at North Vietnamese ports."

According to the Westmoreland briefing for the SEATO military advisers, no amount of propaganda can hide the situation from the North Vietnamese leaders. Moreover, they must face such things as a relentless expansion of the air target system in North Vietnam, the decision to install a sophisticated counter - infiltration barrier across the North (even into Laos), the two-and-on-third combat division augmentation already on its way to Westmoreland from the U. S. and the steady erosion of Mao Tse-tung's authority in southern China.

If the foregoing report to the SEATO military advisers is at all accurate, President Johnson should have passed its essential features along to the American people. If the President waits for six months before using its ammunition to combat defeatism, it will be too late to help him at the polls. For by then our attitudes will have hardened and the credibility gap will have become an unbridgeable chasm.

Boone in Hawaii

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Craggy-faced Richard Boone is back in Hollywood, but not for long. His home is still in Hawaii, and he reports that his hopes of founding a movie industry there are growing brighter.

Boone arrived here to enact a guest role in the new CBS Western "Cimarron Strip," and he observed that it was the first time he had appeared on anyone else's television series. The actor starred in "Medic," "Have Gun, Will Travel" and the briefer anthology repertory he headed. Somewhat embittered by the failure of the later series, he announced three years ago he was abandoning the local scene to make his base in Hawaii.

"I'd like to start a movie business out there," he remarked, causing the town's wiseacres to scoff.

But now, says Boone, his dream is closer to reality.

"These things take time," he explained. "When I went to Hawaii, I decided not to jump in with both feet. The people out there like it better if you take it slow and give them a chance to get to know you.

"As a matter of fact, I don't want to build a stuido at all. I would much rather have someone else do it. But apparently I'm stuck with the job."

Boone went about the project in a systemaitc way. First, he contracted with Warner Brothers-Seven Arts for a feature "Kona Coast, which he filmed in Hawaii last summer with himself, Vera Miles, Joan Blondell and Kent Smith in the cast.

"We shot the picture for $877,000, which is a might good investment for what we have on film," he said. "We had to bring only six technicians from the mainland, and that proved that picture making can be almost self-sustaining in Hawaii.

" 'Kona Coast' also serves as a pilot for a television series. It's a good deal for CBS, which get a pilot for nothing. If they pick up the option—and the chances look good—then we'll go ahead and build a studio."

"I hope that we will have another television series besides 'Kona Coast' going in the first year. Also, we could make it very attractive for feature film makers to come to Hawaii and make their movies in their entirety at a reasonable cost. They've been leary of shooting out there because of such debacles as 'Hawaii'.

Having sold his rights to "Have Gun" for a million, Boone doesn't really need another television series. Then why would he undertake one?

"Look," he grinned, "the role I play is a great character, lots of fun to play. I'll be working around boats, which I enjoy and filming in the place I love, with people who are the greatest in the world. I think I could face four years of such a life."

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Oct. 23, the 296th day of 1967. There are 69 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1917, American troops saw their first action on the Western front in World War I.

On this date:

In 1684, the Charter of the Massachusetts Colony was annulled.

In 1776, Gen. George Washington's troops withdrew from the island of Manhattan.

In 1915, some 25,000 women demanding voting rights demonstrated in New York.

In 1929, stock prices started dropping in heavy trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

In 1942, British troops under Gen. Bernard Montgomery launched a big offensive against Axis forces at El Alamein, Egypt, during World War II.

In 1947, a forest fire destroyed much of the resort town of Bar Harbor, Maine.

Ten years ago—Syria rejected Saudi Arabia's offer to mediate a dispute between Syria and Turkey.

A new feature of the Pumpkin Show was the Characterization and Comic Parade — "Doll up and get in". Liberal prizes were awarded.

The show opened 7 p. m. Wednesday evening with a style show and band concert. Fair skies prevailed. Large exhibits were indicated. The carnival exhibits were in place and the city streets looked like a tented field.

Paid attractions at the 19th annual show were: Evans' Society Circus, Curio Show, Birdland, Calf and Hog Show. Added attractions were dancing each night, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, the whip and aeroplane swing.

Mack Parrett offered a Pumpkin Show special of a "free" football with each boy's suit or overcoat purchased — $10 or up.

Feature of the Pumpkin show, the Baby Parade, had 150 entries. Attendance was a record breaker.

Guy Rader won the horse shoe pitching contest with 246 points.

Best loaf of white bread honors were won by Mrs. G. E. Thornton Jellies, Mrs. Lida Riffle; Best roll of country made butter, W. T. Logan.

The prettiest white baby under 1 year was Bertie Wesley Richey, prettiest baby between 1 and 2 was Edith Pauline Hampshire, prettiest between 2 and 3, Vida Eloise Turner. The prettiest twins under one year were Mary Irene and Frances Marvene Pontius.

Honorable George R. Haswell, Mayor of Circleville for 6 years, died on the opening day of the show. He originated and promoted Circleville's Pumpkin Show.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A PRE-KINDERGARTEN kid in the Bronx explained to the playground supervisor that her mother "tapped for a living." "Well, well, a tap dancer," nodded the supervisor. "And where does your mother tap?"

Explained the youngster, "On her tapwratter."

Pert Barbara Felton admits she was slightly discombobulated at her home the other morning. She was taking a bath when the doorbell rang. Grabbing a small towel, she made for the door and asked "Who's there?" "Blind man," was the reply. Barbara opened the door to discover a fine figure of a lad who inquired appreciatively, "Where do I put these Venetian blinds, Miss?"

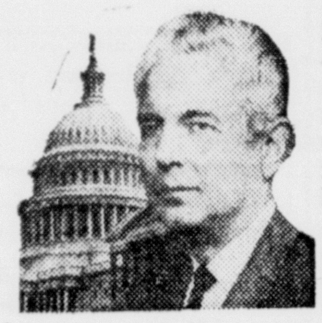
A snappy young man visited a jewelry shop in Seattle in search of an engagement ring. "What sort of setting do you have in mind?" asked the jeweler. The young man looked startled for a moment, then said, "Well, probably her living-room couch."



WASHINGTON REPORT

From

WILLIAM H. HARSHA

Representative To Congress
6th District, Ohio

The Great Debate on Taxes, Inflation and Government-Spending has been going on for several months now and will likely continue for some time.

The Congress presently has turned deaf ears to LBJ's pleas for more taxes — telling him to slow down on spending first.

The President claims the Congress is responsible for spending and Congress claims the President is responsible. It should be made clear that Congress appropriates money, makes it available, but the President actually spends the money.

The President requests funds from the Congress and he can hold down his requests. It is likewise true that Congress can reject or reduce these requests; and, to date, the Congress has reduced them by about $4 billion and will reduce them, in all probability, by at least another billion before the session is over. However, this solves only part of the problem.

This year's budget requests by President Johnson contain pleas for new obligaional authority exceeding $144 billion, and it is these new requests Congress is cutting back.

The President argues that unless his tax increase is passed, we will have a deficit of around $30 billion and inflation.

But LBJ' tax increase would only reduce the deficit to around $23 billion; maybe, not even that low, depending upon when it is effective. But some Members of Congress feel a $23 billion deficit will create inflation also; just about as much inflation as a $30 billion deficit.

Another Administration argument is that without the tax increase interest rates would move higher, because the Treasury would have to borrow an additional $7 billion. Some Members of Congress agree with this but think the better policy would be to reduce expenditures, so it isn't necessary to borrow more money, rather than increase taxes.

Another argument is that the housing industry would suffer a special burden, a recurrence of last years depresssion when money was "tight". This is probably true if the federal government has to borrow more money and compete with private enterprise and the individual in the money market. The answer here again seems to be to cut down on spending obviating the necessity of borrowing more.

The Administration spokesmen maintain it is Congress' reponsibility to tell the President where to cut. Here are some suggested areas where additional cuts may be made without affecting the necessary services for the American people.

The military budget is not sacrosanct and there are a number of areas where waste could be curtailed, such as in the practice of purchasing items by negotiated contracts rather than by competitive bidding.

Some Members of Congress claim the "TFX" incident has cost the taxpayer untold millions of dollars.

Furthermore, there is a $14 billion carry-over of "unobligated" funds in the Department of Defense. The Congress approved defense appropriations of approximately $70 billion for this fiscal year. A cut of five percent would save $3.5 billion and not affect the Vietnam effort or our national security.

Another area where additional cuts can be made is in the Public Works Appropriations Bill. Although the Congress has already cut this figure beneath the President's total request, the figure is stil in excess of $4.6 billion. Another cut of five percent in these programs would not materially affect their completion, but would have a decidedly favorable effect upon our deficit for this year.

The Administration has requested $70 million for Highway Beautification programs this year to cover the purchase of "rock out-croppings", scenic vistas, pastoral scenes or strips of timber or interesting natural shrubs. This money is to be used outside the right-of-way area of highways. It would appear that, in this year of the "great deficit", we could at least dealy the expenditure of this $70 million for these unnecessary rills.

Another area where considerable savings could be practiced would be Federal employment. Federal employment has increased over a year by roughly 250 thousand employees. The increase in employment has added $1.8 billion to the Federal payroll.

Foreign aid has gotten completely out of hand. The following information was provided by Congressman Otto E. Passman, Democrat, Chairman of the Foreign Operations Subcommittee on Appropriations. Congressman Passman says, and I quote,

"New funds requested for foreign aid, all categories, first 7 months of 1967; 9 billion, 206 million, 154 thousand dollars. If the Congress approves all new funds requested by the President this year, there will be on hand to be spent or obligated during the current fiscal year, the staggering toatl of 25 billion, 602 million, 935 thousand dollars. Our country is committed to disburse funds during the current fiscal year in 100 nations and 5 territories of the world."

It would seem to many Members of Congress that it would only be fair to ask those foreign nations to tighten their belts a little and not expect so much from Uncle Sugar this year rather than to continually ask the American taxpayer to do without so that foreign governments could receive more of our largesse.

These are just some of the areas where both Congress and the Administration can reduce federal expendtiures and still provide the necessary services for the people of America. In the few remaining weks, three will be a great deal of maneuvering and let us hope that the American taxpayer wins this one fight at least.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (A) — An "emergency" committee of 700 businessmen from throughout the country has been formed here to combat what is felt to be an increase in the rate by which gangsters are infiltrating legitimate businesses.

"This is organized anti-crime," said a spokesman for the National Emergency Committee. "It is safer for an association to stick its neck out than for one individual to do so."

Formation of the committee, which is heavily financed by big business, underlines the concern of government, police and business officials with the growing threat, as well as with the usually feeble counterattack.

One of the group's chief roles will be to alert industry to the methods gangsters use to move in on thousands of businesses: garbage disposal, machine vending and contruction to be sure, but also banks, brokerage houses and automobile agencies.

It hopes to do this by arousing businessmen and their trade associations and by encouraging volunteer roles for civilians in the operation of police departments, courts and jails, and in rehabilitating former criminals.

This may be bad news for the office or plant bookie, for friendly and sociable as he may be, the committee views his activities as "the lifeblood of the organized crime syndicate."

By no means, however, is the concentration going to be on the small guy. The syndicate itself, sometimes better organized and more efficient than a conventional business, is the chief worry. Syndicate officers are constantly pressured to find legitimate outlets for their mounting billions.

The committee, a unit of the nonprofit National Council on Crime and Delinquency, will convene here Nov. 13, chaired by H. Ladd Lumley, who was president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in 1962 and 1963.

Meanwhile, it suggests business leaders familiarize themselves with some of these principal methods of infiltration:

1. Investment in legitimate businesses of profits from gambling, extortion, narcotics or other illegal sources. This type of infiltration is difficult to detect if the company's stock is traded publicly.

2. Loans with such fantastically high interest rates—as much as 150 per cent a week—that the businessman must accept the lender as a partner or go bankrupt. After the partner is accepted, the original owner is dealt out.

3. Extortion in which the owner yields partial or complete control of the business because of threats. These threats might include arson, beatings, labor trouble or destruction of property.

Why should the underworld be interested in surfacing? The compelling reasons, the committee explains, include these:

—"A legitimate business establishes a legal source for funds upon which some taxes are paid—as little as possible. This helps protect the gangster from income tax charges.

—"A legitimate business allows the gangster to operate without the high rate of protection which he pays when he runs a gambling or other racket. Furthermore, the business may dovetail with other syndicate operations."

Once in a legitimate enterprise, a committee spokesman explains, the gangster seldom lives up to his new responsibilities and status. Instead, he corrupts the business.

Good News about Vietnam

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Governor Ronald Reagan of California has accused President Johnson of hiding news of our successes in the Vietnamese War in order to save the glad tidings for the 1968 election campaign. This is scarcely credible, for how does any news, good or bad, keep for nine months? But if Reagan is almost certainly wrong about Lyndon Johnson's motivations, he could be right when he says the White House isn't giving the public an up-to-date rundown on the progress of the war.

If I didn't happen to subscribe to the Washington Report of the American Security Council, for example, I wouldn't have known that the military advisers of SEATO, meeting in September in Bangkok, had received a most optimistic summary of battlefront successes from General Westmoreland's headquarters. Governor Reagan says he has a feeling, based on information from "certain contacts," that "the corner has been turned" in Vietnam. The Governor may be sticking his neck out when he says we are over the worst hurdles, but the Westmoreland report to SEATO certainly corroborates what Reagan has learned from "people who have been there."

Zone by zone, the Westmoreland summary contradicts all the purveyors of gloom. Quoting the American Security Council, "North Vietnamese forces still have the capability to mount large-scale attacks from within and above the Seventeenth Parallel." This means that the First Corps Zone is still in trouble, but enemy attacks have always, to date, "been repulsed with heavy losses," which means that no Dienbienphu is in sight. Meanwhile, the "percentage of population in the zone under Viet Cong control has decreased from 65 per cent to 49 per cent over the past year," and "commercial and military traffic can now use the entire 235 miles of highway from the Demilitarized Zone south to the Second Corps border."

In Zone Two, no North Vietnamese regiment has achieved a successful operation for two years. The "population under Viet Cong control has fallen from 50 per cent to 11 per cent, and "90 per cent of the important highways are now open."

Zone Three is a more complicated matter, for here "the bulk of the VC clandestine organization remains intact" for terroristic purposes. But "the number of enemy killed, captured or defecting has risen from 900 a month in 1966 to over 2,000 a month in 1967." In Zone Four, population under VC control "has dropped from 54 per cent to 40 per cent." Pacification is slow, but "the foundation is being laid," and "public confidence in the government's ability to win the war is growing."

As for the air war against the North, the Westmoreland report to SEATO says it has been extremely effective. "Approximately 50 per cent of North North Vietnam's war supporting industry, including its only iron and steel plant and its only cement plant, have been destroyed." Bulk oil storage facilities have been knocked out, "forcing the North Vietnamese to resort to an inefficient, widely dispersed 55 - gallon barrel storage system." All the major northeast rail lines have been "successfully interdicted," and over a "half-million men have been diverted to road maintenance, repair, dispersal and reconstruction tasks." Ship off-loading time "has quadrupled in six months at North Vietnamese ports."

According to the Westmoreland briefing for the SEATO military advisers, no amount of propaganda can hide the situation from the North Vietnamese leaders. Moreover, they must face such things as a relentless expansion of the air target system in North Vietnam, the decision to install a sophisticated counter - infiltration barrier across the North (even into Laos), the two-and-on-third combat division augmentation already on its way to Westmoreland from the U. S. and the steady erosion of Mao Tse-tung's authority in southern China.

If the foregoing report to the SEATO military advisers is at all accurate, President Johnson should have passed its essential features along to the American people. If the President waits for six months before using its ammunition to combat defeatism, it will be too late to help him at the polls. For by then our attitudes will have hardened and the credibility gap will have become an unbridgeable chasm.

Boone in Hawaii

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Craggy-faced Richard Boone is back in Hollywood, but not for long. His home is still in Hawaii, and he reports that his hopes of founding a movie industry there are growing brighter.

Boone arrived here to enact a guest role in the new CBS Western "Cimarron Strip," and he observed that it was the first time he had appeared on anyone else's television series. The actor starred in "Medic," "Have Gun, Will Travel" and the briefer anthology repertory he headed. Somewhat embittered by the failure of the later series, he announced three years ago he was abandoning the local scene to make his base in Hawaii.

"I'd like to start a movie business out there," he remarked, causing the town's wiseacres to scoff.

But now, says Boone, his dream is closer to reality.

"These things take time," he explained. "When I went to Hawaii, I decided not to jump in with both feet. The people out there like it better if you take it slow and give them a chance to get to know you.

"As a matter of fact, I don't want to build a stuido at all. I would much rather have someone else do it. But apparently I'm stuck with the job."

Boone went about the project in a systemaite way. First, he contracted with Warner Brothers-Seven Arts for a feature "Kona Coast, which he filmed in Hawaii last summer with himself, Vera Miles, Joan Blondell and Kent Smith in the cast.

"We shot the picture for $877,000, which is a might good investment for what we have on film," he said. "We had to bring only six technicians from the mainland, and that proved that picture making can be almost self-sustaining in Hawaii.

" 'Kona Coast' also serves as a pilot for a television series. It's a good deal for CBS, which get a pilot for nothing. If they pick up the option—and the chances look good—then we'll go ahead and build a studio."

"I hope that we will have another television series besides 'Kona Coast' going in the first year. Also, we could make it very attractive for feature film makers to come to Hawaii and make their movies in their entirety at a reasonable cost. They've been leary of shooting out there because of such debacles as 'Hawaii'.

Having sold his rights to "Have Gun" for a million, Boone doesn't really need another television series. Then why would he undertake one?

"Look," he grinned, "the role I play is a great character, lots of fun to play. I'll be working around boats, which I enjoy and filming in the place I love, with people who are the greatest in the world. I think I could face four years of such a life."

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Oct. 23, the 296th day of 1967. There are 69 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1917, American troops saw their first action on the Western front in World War I.

On this date:

In 1684, the Charter of the Massachusetts Colony was annulled.

In 1776, Gen. George Washington's troops withdrew from the island of Manhattan.

In 1915, some 25,000 women demanding voting rights demonstrated in New York.

In 1929, stock prices started dropping in heavy trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

In 1942, British troops under Gen. Bernard Montgomery launched a big offensive against Axis forces at El Alamein, Egypt, during World War II.

In 1947, a forest fire destroyed much of the resort town of Bar Harbor, Maine.

Ten years ago—Syria rejected Saudi Arabia's offer to mediate a dispute between Syria and Turkey.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Words of Wisdom from Experience

DEAR ABBY: Be fair, and give the other side of the question of whether to institutionalize a Mongoloid child. There are so many who say, "All the retarded child needs is to be kept at home, and assured that he is loved."

But, Abby, have you ever seen a mentally deficient child who has grown to adulthood? A 30-year-old man who still makes baby noises, but must be shaved, bathed, and taken to the bathroom? He is not very "lovable." Oh his mother "loves" him all right, but her heart aches and twists as friends try to conceal their embarrassment. And the terrible shadow of, "What will happen to him when I am gone," looms ahead and grows darker with the years.

Not all mentally deficient children are so seriously retarded that they would be better off in an institution, but once it becomes established that he must be cared for as a baby all his life, the sooner he is placed in a reputable institution, the better.

When our doctor suggested that I place my child in an institution, I cried, "I CANNOT put my child in an institution! What will she think?"

The doctor replied, "She wouldn't care. She wouldn't know the difference."

And it's true. She has been there for 19 years. She is safe and happy there. I let her go when she was young enough to adjust. I love her, as I love my other children. And I have no regrets.

BEEN THERE

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem and no one in my family can come up with an answer. My brother has been separated from his wife and two children for over five years. He lives in the same town with them, but is now living with another woman. He and this other woman have just become parents of a baby boy. My problem is, how do I receive this poor little innocent child? Do I just ignore the precious baby and pretend he doesn't exist?

I do not live in the same state with my brother and am not in contact with him, but as far as I know there is no divorce in sight so it will be some time before he can make things legal with the woman he's living with, if that's his plan. I don't know what in the world they are thinking of. Surely not of that poor innocent child.

How in the world should I handle this mess? I don't want to do anything to hurt my brother's legal wife and children, but what about the illegitimate baby?

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: As I see it, the "mess" is your brother's and the woman with whom he is living. Their child isn't "illegitimate" — his parents are. Since you are not in contact with your brother, you probably shouldn't "do" anything.

DEAR ABBY: Altho this problem might sound funny to some people, it is serious to me.

My boyfriend has a very coarse beard. He shaves just before he picks me up, but by the end of the evening his face is like sandpaper. Needless to say, it sure does tear up my face.

Right now he is in the service, so I see him only a few days at a time, then my face has three months to heal, but what am I going to do when he gets out of service and we decide to get married? Must I go around with a face that is irritated and burning and practically bleeding?

Possibly one of your readers (men who have had this problem, or women who have found a solution) can help me.

Economy Drive Threats Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, said Sunday he hopes "the great groundswell of grass roots sentiment for economy" will continue to be felt here but anticipates two threats to the economy drive.

"The first will be a propaganda effort by the bureaucracy usually operating through local organizations, to scare people," Bow said in a statement.

"Already there have been phony threats that we are cutting out school lunches, rural electrification administration lines, sewage projects, etc.," he said.

The second threat, he said, is that while people may feel that taxes are too high and spending should be cut, they still will demand increased spending for some project their organization or city requires.

Ohio Welfare Meeting Opens

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Delegates from public and private social agencies kicked off a second round of discussions today at the Ohio Welfare Conference' annual meeting.

DAR Hears Talk by Dr. Sprouse

The historic home of Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong, Route 56 East, provided the background for the Oct. 17, meeting of Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

"American Heritage in Religion and Education" was given many meaningful progress and policy citations and comparisons by Dr. W. L. Sprouse, guest speaker, who was presented by Mrs. Richard Hedges.

Dr. Sprouse defined heritage as something handed down to a later generation which has many branches of values as related to past use and origin. For education in general, at home or in private or public schools, the speaker stated that training for a Christian union was a unifying purpose. Initially the church influence and supervison was very important.

Dr. Strous stated the beliefs or knowledge of heritage cannot change facts of life and death, but they can nurture character growth through better understanding.

In summary the speaker elaborated on four reasons for education which can support many lasting and inspiring pictures of heritage: first, understanding self and the world; second, training for employment; third, source of varied satisfactions and fourth, life and health.

Regent, Mrs. Judd Dresbach, presided throughout the session. During the ritualistic opening Mrs. R. R. Bales served as chaplain and Mrs. William L. Mack led in recognition of the flag.

For Mrs. Forrest Croman, there was a silent standing tribute.

Miss Florence Brown read the October message from the State Regent, Mrs. Carol Kietzman. Mrs. Donald H. Watt, chapter chairman for American Indians, reported a need for cast-off nylon hose and beads. She suggested that they be brought to the November meeting. Plans were made to pack a gift box for the Tamassee school in South Carolina.

For the Pumpkin Show sale and exhibit project at Beckett's Store, Miss Marie Hamilton told of arranged sharing of responsibility and asked for cooperation in promotion.

A musical program was presented by Lorna Poling, soloist, with Vanessa Mills accompaning her at the piano.

Ellen Tootle, president of Betsy Ross Junior American Citizens Club of Brooks-Yates School, was a guest.

Members were reminded of "Grandmother's Cookie Jar" the demonstrated program by Mrs. Russell Skaggs for the Nov. 21, meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. Winfred Dumm, chairman; Mrs. George Rihl, Miss Florence Bowsher, Mrs. J. L. Chilcote, Mrs. Sterling Poling, Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. James Price, Mrs. Paul Counts and Mrs. Leora Sayre.

Find Antitank Rockets in River

DOVER, Ohio (AP) — Three plastic antitank weapons will be destroyed by military personnel after the FBI examines them, 1st Lt. Charles R. Carson Jr. said Sunday. The weapons were found Saturday about two miles north of here in the Tuscarawas River near the Dover Dam.

Lt. Carson said the weapons were fully loaded and ready to fire. Because they were wet, the fuses could short and cause firing, he said.

The weapons -- light antitank weapons (LAW)--are about one foot long and have to be telescoped out to about three feet in length for firing. Lt. Carson said he could not "say where or what supply depot they came from." A search for more of the weapons was called for.

Decries Apathy Over Pollution

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Frank Rosen, chairman of the Essex County Medical Society's air pollution committee, decried public apathy about dirty air in a speech recently before the East Orange Chamber of Commerce. He said the only way to get the public aroused about air pollution is to prove it affects sex life.

Guild 31 Will Meet

Mrs. Michael Bruno will host Berger Hospital Guild 31 in her home, 580 Oakland Terrace, 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Polar Fliers Await Rescue

INUVIK, N.W.T. (AP) — Snug in parachuted gear, three polar fliers today awaited rescue after being missing since their plane went down Oct. 13 in the Yukon wilds.

The three are pilot Thor Tjontveit, 30, Fairbanks, Alaska; Rolf Storhavg, 30, Oslo, Norway, and Einar Pedersen, 48, chief navigator for Scandinavian Airlines System. They disappeared on a flight from Fairbanks to Inuvik.

A search pilot spotted them Sunday walking near their downed plane in the Blow River Valley 90 miles southwest of Inuvik.

A rescue party, including the wife of one of the downed fliers, flew over later and dropped a radio, sleeping bags, food and medical equipment.

The airmen radioed they were unharmed except for a few bruises, so rescue efforts were suspended until a helicopter could reach the scene.

They had pitched a tent in a grove of trees near where their plane lay with apparently damaged wings.

Dead Letter?

KANSAS CITY (AP) — George Lehr, Jackson County tax collector, said he recently received a letter which said: "As I have notified your office before, I have been deceased since November 1965. Please remove my name from the tax rolls."

DAR Hears Talk by Dr. Sprouse

The historic home of Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong, Route 56 East, provided the background for the Oct. 17, meeting of Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

"American Heritage in Religion and Education" was given many meaningful progress and policy citations and comparisons by Dr. W. L. Sprouse, guest speaker, who was presented by Mrs. Richard Hedges.

Dr. Sprouse defined heritage as something handed down to a later generation which has many branches of values as related to past use and origin. For education in general, at home or in private or public schools, the speaker stated that training for a Christian union was a unifying purpose. Initially the church influence and supervison was very important.

Dr. Strous stated the beliefs or knowledge of heritage cannot change facts of life and death, but they can nurture character growth through better understanding.

In summary the speaker elaborated on four reasons for education which can support many lasting and inspiring pictures of heritage: first, understanding self and the world; second, training for employment; third, source of varied satisfactions and fourth, life and health.

NHL Action Brings Win To Kings

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Los Angeles' laughing stock Kings are the National Hockey League's only undefeated team and maybe NHL's expansion draft wasn't so funny after all.

The Kings selected veteran goalie Terry Sawchuk in the draft and surrounded him with a band of inexperience youngsters, prompting the consensus that they had done the poorest job of picking. So naturally, they're leading the NHL's expansion West Division.

Sawchuk made his first start Sunday night and was brilliant, as the Kings ripped Chicago 5-3.

Elsewhere, New York showered 51 shots at Pittsburgh goalie Les Binkley and topped the Penguins 6-4, Philadelphia won its third straight, trimming California 5-2 and Paul Henderson's third period goal gave Detroit a 1-0 decision over St. Louis and Glenn Hall.

In Saturday night's games, New York stopped Toronto 5-3, Montreal whipped Boston 4-2, Pittsburgh slugged Chicago 4-2, Minnesota topped California 3-1 and St. Louis battled to a 3-3 tie with Los Angeles.

Colonels Win 1st ABA Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pass from the Army and a spark from the bench set up the Kentucky Colonels for their first American Basketball Association victory Sunday night.

Lou Dampier, former University of Kentucky star on a weekend pass from the National Guard at Ft. Knox, Ky., dropped in 28 points, in the 106-96 victory over Minnesota. His two field goals put the Colonels ahead to stay 94-93 with 3:18 left.

Only 2,000 turned out to see Dallas lose its first game in two starts, dropping a 121-101 decision to unbeaten Indiana.

In the National Basketball Association, Cincinnati and San Francisco beat the two expansion teams, Seattle and San Diego.

Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson powered a second-half Royal rally for a 106-94 victory over Seattle as Lucas hit 26 points and collected 24 rebounds and the Big O added 23 points and nine assists.

Nate Thurmond was the whole story in San Francisco's 137-126 triumph over San Diego as he scored 37 points and hauled in 26 rebounds. The Warriors took a 77-70 halftime lead and never trailed in the final half.

U.S. Wins Ryder Easily

HOUSTON (AP) — It's not the muscle, the power or the tournament experience that gives American golf pros a wide edge over their British cousins — it's the touch on the greens.

Both U.S. and British players agreed on this point today as they reviewed another one-sided American victory in the biennial Ryder Cup competition.

Led by Arnold Palmer and Gardner Dickinson, each of whom figured in five winning points while losing none, the Yanks clobbered the best pros from the British Isles, 23½ points to 8½.

It was the 14th team victory for the United States in the 40 years of the compeition. Americans have lost only three times — always on British courses. Over here, it's hardly a contest.

"It's ridiculous," said one high-placed British golf spokesman who preferred that his name not be used. "We are no match for you Yanks. We must change the format if we're to keep it interesting, maybe bring in the rest of the Commonwealth."

DiMaggio Signs With Oakland

CHICAGO (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, one of baseball's all-time greats, is back in the game as executive vice president of the new Oakland Athletics.

DiMaggio signed a two-year contract to run the club for Charles O. Finley, the insurance tycoon who last wek succeeded in getting his American League franchise shifted from Kansas City to Oakland.

O. J. Flows, Beavers Bite, Tide Goes Out

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

O. J. flowed again, the Beavers were more than just eager and the Tide went out.

That was the story Saturday as O. J. Simpson led Southern California, the nation's No. 1 major college football team, to a 23-6 victory over Washington; the Oregon State Beavers upset second-ranked Purdue 22-14, and Alabama's sixth-ranked Crimson Tide bowed to seventh-rated Tennessee 24-13.

The sensational Simpson, nicknamed Orange Juice, ran for 242 yards and two touchdowns and passed for another TD as Southern Cal built its score to 6-0 with the Pacific - 8 triumph.

Simpson got the Trojans, who were plagued by four fumbles and an interception rolling with an 86-yard scoring dash in the first period, an 10 yards for another TD in the fourth and then passed 17 yards for the final touchdown.

The Beavers fell behind 14-10 against Purdue before breaking loose for 12 points on Bill Enyart's four-yard TD run and a pair of field goals by Mike Haggard.

The Oregon State defense recovered three fumbles and intercepted three passes in thwarting Purdue's bid for its 10th straight victory. The Boilemakers now are 4-1.

Third-string quarterback Rubba Wyche guided the Tennessee offense and the Volunteees' defense picked off five Kenny Stabler's passes in sending Alabama to its first defeat in 26 game.

One of the interceptions resulted in a Tennessee touchdown as Al Dorsey raced 31 yards. Tennessee now is 3-1 and Alabama is 3-1-1.

All of the other Top Ten teams won.

Gary Beban rallied third-ranked UCLA. 6-0, from a 10-7 deficit with touchdown runs of 11 and four yards as the Bruins beat stubborn Stanford 21-6.

Safety Dick Anderson intercepted a Frank Patrick pass, ran 17 yards and then lateraled to Mike Veede, who continued 45 more to score as No. 4 Colorado, 5-0, snapped a 7-7 tie and went on to edge Nebraska 21-16 in a key Big Eight Conference game. Jeff Raymond got the clinching TD for Colorado when he returned an interception 76 yards.

No. 5 North Carolina State, 6-0, got three field goals from Gerald Warren and a 76-yard TD punt return from Fred Cooms in beating Wake Forest 24-7 in a night game.

Georgia, No. 8, breezed to its fourth victory against one loss, blasting Virginia Military Institute 56-6. Ronnie Jenkins and Brad Johnson each scored twice for the Bulldogs, who held VMI to minus 49 yards rushing.

With the talented Warren McVea on the bench with injuries, Don Bean took over and scored on a 65-yard punt return and a nine-yard run in leading ninth-raked Houston, 4-1 to a 43-6 trouncing of Mississippi.

MAC Like a Horse Race; Toledo, Miami, WM Tied

By SAM DOBBINS
Associated Press Writer

The name of the game still is football, but in the Mid-American Conference it looks more like a horse race.

Following a hectic weekend on the Ohio college football scene, the MAC scramble ended up in a three-way deadlock with Toledo, Miami and Western Michigan sporting 3-1 records.

Elsewhere, Ohio State came alive long enough to even its season mark at 2-2 with a 6-2 Big Ten victory over Northwestern; Dayton rolled up its most points in a quarter century in belting Temple 56-6; and woe - stricken Cincinnati was clubbed by Tulsa 35-6.

Surging Toledo had the big say in MAC play, smashing previously undefeated (in the conference) Western Michigan 35-9. Toledo put together drives of 80, 80, and 73 yards in grinding out the victory, holding the Broncos scoreless until the final period.

In the other key MAC game, Miami handed Ohio University its second loss in four conference outings, shading the Bobcats 22-15 on tailback Al Moores 73-yard touchdown run late in the game. Moore ground out 232 yards rushing as the Redskins put down an Ohio rally with only a few seconds remaining.

At Evanston, Ill., Ohio State halfback Dave Brungard set up the game's only touchdown by returning a second half kickoff 44 yards to Northwestern's 46. Nine plays later Brungard scored from two yards out.

Northwestern threatened in the final period, marching 84 yards to the Ohio State 7 where a rugged Buckeye defense turned back the point-hungry Wildcats.

Northwestern got on the scoreboard with 1:32 left as Ohio State Gerry Ehrsam, after two bad Buckeye punts, deliberately fell on the ball in his own end zone. OSU kicked off and drove the Wildcats deep into their own territory to run out the clock.

The first - ever meeting between Dayton and Temple was highlighted by three touchdowns apiece from halfbacks Bill Mayo and Bob Madden. It was the most points collected by the Flyers since their 75 - 0 romp over Detroit in 1941.

Tulsa, even with three interceptions and three lost fumbles, had no trouble with Cincinnati, despite a good effort by Bearcar quarterback Greg Cook. Cook, knocked down continously by Tulsa's defense, passed for 185 yards.

In other games:

Bill Long caught three touchdown passes as Ohio Wesleyan bombed Wabash 41 - 0; Mount Union won its first Ohio Conference outing in five starts, shutting out Hiram 43 - 0; A. J. Vaughn hurled three TD aerials as Wayne State crushed Adelbert 49-20; Wilmington won its first decision in five starts by beating Case 47 - 13; Bluffton claimed the Mid - Ohio Conference title with its 27-7 victory over Defiance; and Rick Harbold scored three TDs and Jim Usynski passed for two as Muskingum beat Capital 34-13.

The others:

Bowling Green 7, Kent State 6; Marietta 21, Otterbein 7; Denison 27, Oberlin 6; Wooster 52, Kenyon 0; Heidelberg 19, Ashland 19 (tie); Akron 23, Baldwin - Wallace 23 (tie); Central Michigan 33, Central State 0; Wittenberg 37, John Carroll 0; Pensacola Navy 17, Youngstown 14; Xavier 40, Chattanooga 28; Kentucky State 13, Findlay 6; Midwestern (Iowa) at Ohio Northern, canceled.

Damascus To Race

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Damascus, the latest darling of the thoroughbred set, returns to the races this week and hopes to cement his claim to Horse of the Year honors.

The 3-year-old colt, owned by Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft, goes to the post in the $100,000-added Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct Saturday. It will be his first start since his impressive 10-length victory over Buckpasser and Dr. Fager in the Woodward Stakes several weeks ago.

Sharing the weekend spotlight will be Ogden Phipps' unbeaten 2-year-old filly, Queen Of The State, who will try for her eighth straight victory in the $100,000 guaranteed Selima Stakes at Laurel.

Damascus' appearance in the two-mile Gold Cup will be his last before he will try to beat the foreign invaders in the Washington, D.C., International at Laurel Nov. 11.

Mrs. Lindstrom Wins Carlsbad

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP) — Murle Lindstrom says the Riverside Country Club nine-hole course — the only one on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour in 1967 — makes the players work on their approach game.

So, Mrs. Lindstrom, a 28-year-old mother of two from Largo, Fla., teed off on the 15th home Sunday with that in mind. Her drive landed 190 yards shy. She picked out her three-iron and sent the ball dribbling into the cup for an eagle on the par-4 hole.

Of the $11,000 distributed to the women pros, Mrs. Lindstprom takes home $1,650 for her 54-hole total of even par 77-72-67—216. One stroke back was second-round leader Sandra Haynie, who won $1,310 for her 73-72-72—217.

Ohio Boatmen Hurt in Crash

CINCINNATI (AP)—John Hey St. Mary Hospital here today 33, Dayton, Ohio, remained in with a fractured chest bone and internal injuries, suffered Sunday when his racing boat somersaulted in the 65th annual Ohio River Marathon from Newport, Ky., to Warsaw, Ky.

His partner, Richard Burdg, 26, Clayton, Ohio, was released after rteatment for a fractured left leg. Both men were thrown clear in the accident, caused when waves from a barge as their catamaran travelled at 82 miles per hour near Cleves, Ohio.

Stanford has beaten San Jose State in football each of the last six years.

3rd Place Brings Hulme Auto Crown

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Dehis Hulme, world driving champion and New Zealand's latest example of how to beat a man at his own game, is a king in search of a mount.

Hulme won the driving title Sunday with a surprise third place in the Mexican Grand Prix. Jim Clark of Scotland won the auto race in spectacular fashion but had no hope of keeping the title out of New Zealand or Australian hands.

The quiet Kiwi is the first New Zealander to win the championship invented by Europeans but he's not sure he'll try for a repeat in 1968 in the same type care he drove this year.

"I'll decide in a month or two what I'll do," Hulme said. "I don't know yet whose car I'll drive next year."

Hulme, who progressed from mechanic to number two driver for Jack Brabham of Australia, edged out his boss in the championship standings although Brabham was second to Clark in Sunday's race.

Brabham had to win Sunday, and Hulme finish fifth or worse, for Brabham to win the title for tre fourth time and repeat his 1966 championship.

Chargers Win AFL Tilt Despite Girl

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego doesn't worry anymore about John Hadl giving up the foot ball, but those shapely blondes are starting to give him trouble.

It began Sunday, more unexpectedly than the Chargers' showing this year, when a gal dashed from the stands in the third quarter, grabbed up the football at the line of scrimmage and refused to give it back.

It was about the only game the surprising Chargers have lost this year as they ran their record to 5-0-1 with a 38-21 victory over Denver on Hadl's three touchdown pitches in the last half.

The victory kept them the American League's only unbeaten team and still atop the Western Division, a half-game ahead of Oakland.

The Raiders easily ran their record to 5-1 behind Daryle Lamonica's four scoring passes that carried them to a 48-14 rout over Boston and set up a clash against San Diego next Sunday.

The league's defending champions, Kansas City, fell further behind when Houston upset them 24-19, while the New York Jets continued to roll along as the Eastern Division leader with a 34-14 triumph over Miami.

While Hadl was pulling out the game for San Diego, a gal who said her name was Beverly Hutchison of Colorado was the woman of the hour.

She came out of the east stands, vaulted a three-foot-high fence and swiped the football just as the Denver center moved over it. Stunned officials tried to get it back, and then ushers and police officers pleaded in vain after she returned to the stands.

Buckaroos Win

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Portland Buckaroos of the Western Hockey League slapped in four quick goals against the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League Sunday night and held on for a 5-2 victory.

Michigan State's football team ranked third in the nation in rushing defense last season and eighth in total defense.

NHL Action Brings Win To Kings

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Los Angeles' laughing stock Kings are the National Hockey League's only undefeated team and maybe NHL's expansion draft wasn't so funny after all.

The Kings selected veteran goalie Terry Sawchuk in the draft and surrounded him with a band of inexperience youngsters, prompting the consensus that they had done the poorest job of picking. So naturally, they're leading the NHL's expansion West Division.

Sawchuk made his first start Sunday night and was brilliant, as the Kings ripped Chicago 5-3.

Elsewhere, New York showered 51 shots at Pittsburgh goalie Les Binkley and topped the Penguins 6-4, Philadelphia won its third straight, trimming California 5-2 and Paul Henderson's third period goal gave Detroit a 1-0 decision over St. Louis and Glenn Hall.

In Saturday night's games, New York stopped Toronto 5-3, Montreal whipped Boston 4-2, Pittsburgh slugged Chicago 4-2, Minnesota topped California 3-1 and St. Louis battled to a 3-3 tie with Los Angeles.

Colonels Win 1st ABA Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pass from the Army and a spark from the bench set up the Kentucky Colonels for their first American Basketball Association victory Sunday night.

Lou Dampier, former University of Kentucky star on a weekend pass from the National Guard at Ft. Knox, Ky., dropped in 28 points, in the 106-96 victory over Minnesota. His two field goals put the Colonels ahead to stay 94-93 with 3:18 left.

Only 2,000 turned out to see Dallas lose its first game in two starts, dropping a 121-101 decision to unbeaten Indiana.

In the National Basketball Association, Cincinnati and San Francisco beat the two expansion teams, Seattle and San Diego.

Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson powered a second-half Royal rally for a 106-94 victory over Seattle as Lucas hit 26 points and collected 24 rebounds and the Big O added 23 points and nine assists.

Nate Thurmond was the whole story in San Francisco's 137-126 triumph over San Diego as he scored 37 points and hauled in 26 rebounds. The Warriors took a 77-70 halftime lead and never trailed in the final half.

U.S. Wins Ryder Easily

HOUSTON (AP) — It's not the muscle, the power or the tournament experience that gives American golf pros a wide edge over their British cousins — it's the touch on the greens.

Both U.S. and British players agreed on this point today as they reviewed another one-sided American victory in the biennial Ryder Cup competition.

Led by Arnold Palmer and Gardner Dickinson, each of whom figured in five winning points while losing none, the Yanks clobbered the best pros from the British Isles, 23½ points to 8½.

It was the 14th team victory for the United States in the 40 years of the compeition. Americans have lost only three times — always on British courses. Over here, it's hardly a contest.

"It's ridiculous," said one high-placed British golf spokesman who preferred that his name not be used. "We are no match for you Yanks. We must change the format if we're to keep it interesting, maybe bring in the rest of the Commonwealth."

O. J. Flows, Beavers Bite, Tide Goes Out

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

O. J. flowed again, the Beavers were more than just eager and the Tide went out.

That was the story Saturday as O. J. Simpson led Southern California, the nation's No. 1 major college football team, to a 23-6 victory over Washington; the Oregon State Beavers upset second-ranked Purdue 22-14, and Alabama's sixth-ranked Crimson Tide bowed to seventh-rated Tennessee 24-13.

The sensational Simpson, nicknamed Orange Juice, ran for 242 yards and two touchdowns and passed for another TD as Southern Cal built its score to 6-0 with the Pacific - 8 triumph.

Simpson got the Trojans, who were plagued by four fumbles and an interception rolling with an 86-yard scoring dash in the first period, an 10 yards for another TD in the fourth and then passed 17 yards for the final touchdown.

The Beavers fell behind 14-10 against Purdue before breaking loose for 12 points on Bill Enyart's four-yard TD run and a pair of field goals by Mike Haggard.

The Oregon State defense recovered three fumbles and intercepted three passes in thwarting Purdue's bid for its 10th straight victory. The Boilemakers now are 4-1.

Third-string quarterback Rubba Wyche guided the Tennessee offense and the Volunteers' defense picked off five Kenny Stabler's passes in sending Alabama to its first defeat in 26 game.

One of the interceptions resulted in a Tennessee touchdown as Al Dorsey raced 31 yards. Tennessee now is 3-1 and Alabama is 3-1-1.

All of the other Top Ten teams won.

Gary Beban rallied third-ranked UCLA. 6-0, from a 10-7 deficit with touchdown runs of 11 and four yards as the Bruins beat stubborn Stanford 21-6.

Safety Dick Anderson intercepted a Frank Patrick pass, ran 17 yards and then lateraled to Mike Veede, who continued 45 more to score as No. 4 Colorado, 5-0, snapped a 7-7 tie and went on to edge Nebraska 21-16 in a key Big Eight Conference game. Jeff Raymond got the clinching TD for Colorado when he returned an interception 76 yards.

No. 5 North Carolina State, 6-0, got three field goals from Gerald Warren and a 76-yard TD punt return from Fred Cooms in beating Wake Forest 24-7 in a night game.

Georgia, No. 8, breezed to its fourth victory against one loss, blasting Virginia Military Institute 56-6. Ronnie Jenkins and Brad Johnson each scored twice for the Bulldogs, who held VMI to minus 49 yards rushing.

With the talented Warren McVea on the bench with injuries, Don Bean took over and scored on a 65-yard punt return and a nine-yard run in leading ninth-raked Houston, 4-1 to a 43-6 trouncing of Mississippi.

Buy Your GAS
Air Conditioner
NOW...

Buy Today – Pay in May

BUY NOW... There's no time like the present to buy a Gas Air Conditioner for your home! Installation? Now, of course! And promptly, since installers no longer are as busy as they were during the summer.

BUY NOW... And be all set for the warm fall days ahead. Sure, it's September . . . but remember the 85 and plus days after September 1st last year, and the year before that, and every fall. Air conditioning feels mighty good when fall temperatures climb!

BUY NOW... There's still no down payment! As little as $14 a month buys and installs a Gas air conditioner in your home. And even that small monthly payment is deferred until after May 1, 1968!

BUY NOW... Why delay another day? Call your Gas Company and tell them you want a no-payment-until-May Gas air conditioner. Why not do it today?

In Memoriam

On her 61st birthday in loving memory of Little Mom (Myrtle Ward) who passed away March 28, 1967.

Don't ask us if we miss her,
Life for us is not the same,
All the world would be like Heaven,
Just to see her once again.

Sadly missed by daughters, Vera Mae and Margie.

Cards Top Eagles; Bears Trampled

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Hart's strong arm put new wallop into the St. Louis Cardinals' attack, but Gale Sayers' sore leg left the Chicago Bears offenseless.

Hart, St. Louis' sensational rookie quarterback, fired four touchdown passes Sunday in a 48-14 bombardment of the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Cards' fourth triumph in six games kept them tied for the National Football League's Century Division lead with the Cleveland Browns, who blanked the Sayers-less Bears 24-0 for their fourth straight victory.

Green Bay's NFL champions also flexed their muscles in demolishing New York 48-21 while Minnesota fought Baltimore to a 20-20 standoff, Los Angeles and Washington played to a 28-28 tie, San Francisco whipped New Orleans 27-13, Dallas edged Pittsburgh 24-21 and Detroit beat Atlanta 24-3.

While the Cards were making their biggest point splurge in St. Louis since 1962, the Browns recorded their first regular-season shutout since 1960...while Sayers, Chicago's offensive sparkplug, watched from the sidelines with a bruised left leg.

Frank Ryan's nine-yard TD pass to Gary Collins broke a scoreless tie in the third quarter and the Browns wrapped up the victory with a 17-point final period. The Bears, held to nine first downs, did not threaten until the closing minutes, when they reached the Cleveland seven as time ran out.

Quarterback Bart Starr returned to the Packers' line-up after missing two games with injuries and directed an awesome running attack that produced 38 points in the second half. Jim Grabowski accounted for 123 of Green Bay's 249 rushing yards and Elijah Pitts, who scored three touchdowns, picked up 72 more.

Minnesota, which upended the Packers 10-7 last Sunday, barely missed knocking off the unbeaten Colts behind Joe Kapp, whose 11-yard TD pass to Red Phillips produced a 20-13 edge in the fourth quartre.

But Johnny Unitas, whose 20 completions set an NFL career mark of 2,131, brought the Colts back 80 yards for the tying touchdown, climaxing the drive with a three-yard pitch to John Mackey.

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever the ailments of Sunday night's "Johnny Belinda," ABC's remake of a 20-year-old movie and an even older play, it did not suffer from a lack of plot.

Indeed, all of its melodramatic elements would have kept any soap opera going for at least a full season, and it was pure concentrate of soap opera with which we were presented.

In two hours, less time out for commercials, we saw a little workhorse of a deaf mute, called "Dummy" by a callous father and stern aunt, learn sign language and turn into a pretty girl. Then she was raped, had a child, and shot and killed the baby's father when he tried to take the child from her. And before the big dramatic murder trial climax and happy ending, there was even time for another killing plus a tender romance.

Mia Farrow played the wistful, silent girl with the same-wide-eyed, dewy stoicism she gave to her role of Allison in "Peyton Place," and she never really said much in that series either.

"Johnny Belinda" is the first of a series of programs adapted from successful old movies produced by David Susskind and his Talent Associates.

Several seasons back Susskind was busily turning out this sort of thing and even then nothing memorable resulted. But we have come to expect better things since Susskind was responsible for some of the most exciting evenings of drama we have encountered in recent seasons.

The program was, however, a handsome, lavishly mounted production. A horse-and-buggy period pace, it was set in rural Nova Scotia, and although obviously a studio job the farm—with chickens and horses and cows—was most realistic.

Ian Bannen, an attractive TV newcomer, played Dr. Richardson, the young doctor who gently taught Belinda to "speak" with her hands and brought her in contact with the world. He was impressive and believable in the part.

David Carradine swaggered his way enthusiastically through the part of the bad guy who assaulted the girl, fathered the child and got his come uppance.

But from start to finish the program seemed more an exercise in play-acting than drama involving human emotions.

CBS Eric Severeid, in mid-September, interviewed Eric Hoffer, a 65-year-old ex-longshoreman turned philosopher. Later President Johnson quoted from the interview and subsequently invited Hoffer to visit him at the White House. All of which persuaded CBS it would be a good idea to rerun the interview on Nov. 14.

Cards Top Eagles; Bears Trampled

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Hart's strong arm put new wallop into the St. Louis Cardinals' attack, but Gale Sayers' sore leg left the Chicago Bears offenseless.

Hart, St. Louis' sensational rookie quarterback, fired four touchdown passes Sunday in a 48-14 bombardment of the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Cards' fourth triumph in six games kept them tied for the National Football League's Century Division lead with the Cleveland Browns, who blanked the Sayers-less Bears 24-0 for their fourth straight victory.

Green Bay's NFL champions also flexed their muscles in demolishing New York 48-21 while Minnesota fought Baltimore to a 20-20 standoff, Los Angeles and Washington played to a 28-28 tie, San Francisco whipped New Orleans 27-13, Dallas edged Pittsburgh 24-21 and Detroit beat Atlanta 24-3.

While the Cards were making their biggest point splurge in St. Louis since 1962, the Browns recorded their first regular-season shutout since 1960...while Sayers, Chicago's offensive sparkplug, watched from the sidelines with a bruised left leg.

Frank Ryan's nine-yard TD pass to Gary Collins broke a scoreless tie in the third quarter and the Browns wrapped up the victory with a 17-point final period. The Bears, held to nine first downs, did not threaten until the closing minutes, when they reached the Cleveland seven as time ran out.

Quarterback Bart Starr returned to the Packers' line-up after missing two games with injuries and directed an awesome running attack that produced 38 points in the second half. Jim Grabowski accounted for 123 of Green Bay's 249 rushing yards and Elijah Pitts, who scored three touchdowns, picked up 72 more.

Minnesota, which upended the Packers 10-7 last Sunday, barely missed knocking off the unbeaten Colts behind Joe Kapp, whose 11-yard TD pass to Red Phillips produced a 20-13 edge in the fourth quartre.

But Johnny Unitas, whose 20 completions set an NFL career mark of 2,131, brought the Colts back 80 yards for the tying touchdown, climaxing the drive with a three-yard pitch to John Mackey.

Truck Strike In 9th Week; Pinch Felt

CLEVELAND (AP)—A persistent strike of 20,000 steel truckers is interfering with shipments, jamming available storage space, and adding extra cost to producers of steel, Steel Magazine said today.

"Deliveries at Youngstown, for example, have been cut to 60 per cent of normal, resulting in the mills piling up thousands of tons of finished products," the weekly journal of metalworking said.

Mills are beginning to run out of storage space, Steel said, and "interest charges on the stockpiled steel represents a big daily cost."

The truck strike is in its ninth week, and as it lengthens another problem arises, Steel said: Deterioration of stock.

"Steel corrodes and changes in metallurgical characteristics during storage (such as age hardening)," Steel said. "This may necessitate cropping and reweighing — possibly reworking—some stored steel after the dispute is settled."

While shipments were in difficulty, output of raw steel and volume of incoming orders both improved last week, Steel said.

Long Cigarettes Rouse Controversy

By GEORGE TAYLOR
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Three-fifths of an inch is creating a flap in the tobacco industry and presenting smokers a bewildering choice of cigarettes.

The three-fifths inch is roughly the extra length of tobacco added to king-size filters to make cigarettes 100mm long.

Manufacurers have poured out many brands of the 100s since the longer cigarettes caught on earlier this year.

One count places at 35 the types of 100s on the market, including plain and menthol versions of the same brand.

The 100s leaped from 2 per cent of all cigarette sales in the first quarter of the year to 12 to 15 per cent now, says tobacco analyst John C. Maxwell Jr. He estimated they'll average about 10 per cent for the year.

This means that smokers will consume around 53 billion 100s of an estimated 532 billion cigarettes produced this year.

American Tobacco Co. claims to have been the first in the 100s market with its Pall Mall 100s in late 1965. Phillip Morris followed shortly with Benson and Hedges.

Maxwell estimates that R. J. Reynolds' Winston 100s, Pall Mall and Benson & Hedges lead the field in sales.

Surgeon General William H. Stewart has urged the cigarette industry to withdraw them from the market.

"As research findings continue to confirm tnd to strengthen the scientific evidence incriminating cigarettes as a healh hazard," Stewart told a Senate committee, "it is unconscionable that the cigarette industry should introduce and heavily promote the 100mm cigarette which cannot help but increase the hazard."

The tobacco industry maintains there's no scientific proof that smoking is a health hazard.

Is a still longer cigarette in the works?

"There's a practical point beyond which you can't go," said one industry source.

But apparently 100mm isn't that "practical point." Liggett & Myers has introduced a still longer cigarette—101mm.
